Polio Drive Total Of $1,306.77 Is Told By Chairman

Holland Rose, chairman of the 1951 March of Dimes for Marshall County, reports that a total of $1,306.77 was contributed to the drive here this year, a figure slightly less than that of a year ago.

Though the drive got off to a slow start with contributions coming slowly at first, those working in the campaign declared themselves well pleased with the way it finished. "As chairman of the drive," Mr. Rose said, "I wish to personally thank each person in this county who aided in any way in this successful drive, the time and money that you contributed will help some child to walk again."

The returns broken down into groups show: Industry, $61.54; Schools, $331.80; Radio, $20.00; Dime Cards, $304.50; Coin Collectors, $35.07; Churches and Sunday Schools, $463.90; Organizations, $90.00; Total, $1,306.77. Cost of stamps $40, deducted from total left $1,276.77 to be forwarded to state headquarters in Louisville.

Gully Control Is Paying Off On The Henry Byers Farm

A system of gully control is paying off on the Henry Byers farm east of Benton in the Johnson Creek Community.

Since 1941, Mr. Byers has set over 18,000 seedlings, planting a thousand or more each year. He is controlling and healing gullies by planting on the sides and in the bottom of the gullies and planting 18 to 24 inches apart for this purpose.

Some of the earliest gully plantings are now 12 to 18 ft. high and have caught over a foot of soil. These man-made scars are well on their way toward being healed by using seedlings. Mr. Byers is using only healing gullies but is also keeping a lot of soil and gravel off his bottom land.

Many Marshall County farmers can use this same system by obtaining free pine seedlings from the County Agent's Office. Orders for trees should be placed before March 15.

BENTON REAL ESTATE DEALERS BUILDING HOMES

Hurley and Riley Realty Co. of Benton are doing something definite to relieve the housing shortage in this area.

Through a far-sighted approach to the problem they have been able to secure the services of a contractor who is in a position to rush construction and they can now promise to deliver completed homes within a matter of weeks. They now have seven under construction and two more will be completed within the next few days if weather permits, they report.

They are today publishing an announcement of this service to those in need of homes and urge all to contact them at once while this access to building material holds good. They say that it is not a project of cheap built homes for the rush but that all houses can be built to meet F. H. A. requirements if desired.

This service made possible by Hurley and Riley means that Benton and Marshall County will receive a substantial number of the new families migrating into this area.

Mrs. Mathis Makes Friends With The Birds And Animals

By Mrs. Daisie Mathis

At the foot of a wooded hill and near a moss covered bank, about fifteen yards from my house, is a bird paradise. The past several days since the snow and ice especially. For the past twelve years here I have put out feed for the birds and quite a number came, when this snow first fell, I wired a large red tin box to a small tree and placed feed in it, raked the snow from a small patch of ground, placed a five gallon paint can lid on the ground and put feed on it, and scattered bread crumbs on the ground and some corn meal, on tines and other dry cereals as well as cracked walnuts. I also put feed on the window sills and some of the smaller birds feed there. The first day many birds came and many are coming that I cannot count them, red head woodpeckers and a smaller chick, blue jays and many others that I cannot identify. It's interesting to see many kinds and colors scattered over the ground and up in the trees. They are happy and eating. Although the blue jays eat the larger crumbs they do not fight the others; reason may be that there is plenty for all.

They appear every morning at day light and some are constantly coming until nearly dark in the evening. The past few days a rabbit comes along and sits and eats corn each morning for a while then hops up on the hill out of sight. Last Thursday, I saw three squirrels on the hillside and again this morning they were back eating his breakfast. I can see all this through living-room, dining room and kitchen windows. Now, with all the feathered and furry friends out there it's not only a bird paradise, it's a cat's paw and a wonderland.

Let's all of us feed the birds; they are farmers' friends as they eat many insects and pay with their songs.

Around The Square

Elsewhere in this issue of the Tribune will be found a wonderful article by Mrs. Daisie Mathis about birds and small animals. She must be a wonderful person and her home must be an unusually interesting place to visit, we intend to see about that. She tells of how the birds, and a few rabbits and squirrels have flocked to her house since she has been taking the minutes trouble daily to feed them—it is an interesting story to read and a good example to follow.

Boy, that neighborhood birthday feed Pitt and Rose Boyd put on Sunday night was a candy! It was his birthday and the cake had so many candles on it that no one could count that high, but he did blow them all out with one big blow, somebody said he was just naturally windy anyway. The food was really good and it seemed that several others have learned Peter's trick of piling food on a plate, our's and several others needed sideboards.

There were very few dry eyes at the Christian Church, Sunday morning when Rev. Paul Wilson was unable to fill the pulpit due to the death of his two year old son, Stevie. When Eld. Clark Hunt concluded his prayer for the surviving loved ones, almost all eyes were tear-filled.

If everyone in Marshall County worked as hard promoting the county as Bill Knight, manager of the two state parks, then this would be the top tourist attraction of the universe. He does not stop with just the activities his work calls for, but instead, he puts in every hour of every day promoting the two parks and the rest of Marshall County, and his influence is beginning to be felt.

Governor Wetherby should have waited until this past week-end to come to Marshall County, the crappie were biting good, we know of one trio that brought a round hundred, and heard of several others who brought in plenty.

Joe T. Lovett Addresses Real Estate Board

Many Kentucky municipalities apparently have the misguided notion they can have their cake and eat it too," Joe Lovett, former president of the Kentucky Press Association, told members of the Louisville Real Estate Board at the group's annual banquet Wednesday night, February 21.

Mr. Lovett cited a request by Kentucky municipal leaders last summer for "more federal aid and more home rule," which he said, "obviously cannot exist together."

"If we really want to govern ourselves locally," he declared, "we must stop running to the federal government with our hands out. The government has a right to control that which it subsidizes, and this right has been upheld by the Supreme Court."

Mr. Lovett, who is a former state commander of the American Legion and executive director of the Mid-South Chain Stores Council, listed several freedoms already lost to Americans through their "purchase of creeping socialism under false guise of security." Among the more obvious, he said, are the loss of about 30 per cent of the national income in taxes, loss of the right to rent property to whom the owner wishes at rates agreeable to both parties, loss of the right to grow what a man wishes on his own land, and loss of the right to buy and sell on a free market regulated by supply and demand.

Now director of field services for the Committee for Constitutional Government, Mr. Lovett formerly owned and edited the Tribune-Democrat in Benton and the Ledger and Times at Murray.

A wise old man once said: "A chip on the shoulder is about as heavy as a body carries." It is a funny how you never get too old to learn some new way to be foolish.

Soil Conservation

By Herbert Anderson

Rease York, one mile north of Liberty School made a conservation plan last week. Sericea lespedeza was recommended to be sown on some badly eroded land. March and April are the best months in which to sow sericea.
Rollie Higgins, Tatumsville, is making full use of every acre of his farm. Pasture improvement and woodland management were the only conservation practices needed to make a complete soil and water conservation plan on his farm.
Daniel Irwin says, "My wet land is better suited for pasture than row crop. I want to try all grassland farming."

Irwin's farm is located south of Sharpe on the Sharpe-Benton Bottom Road. In his conservation farm plan, which he made during the March Week of Prayer, February 12, the fields are planned for pasture, feed and improvement in the next two or three years. Eighteen acres of hill land on the farm is to be used as winter pasture.
Elbert Inman, president of the Farm Bureau and a cooperator of the Marshall County Soil Conservation District says, "I can save my soil and make it fertile by sowing pastures while prices are high. Then if prices drop in the future, I can raise cheaper feed and produce cattle with less cost than I could any other way."

Scott DeMeyer, Soil Conservation Service, delivered soil and water conservation farm plans last week to the following farmers: Victor Ross, Elton Oakley, and Edna Beale. Aurora; C. T. Wyatt, near Clark's School; Loman Trimble, Dogtown; Horace Sleds on Van Cone's farm near Benton on the Symsonia Road; R. R. McWaters, Walter Prince, and Raymond English, Benton; Jesse McKendree, Briensburg; and James Copeland, Herman Dexter, and Wm. T. Boatwright, of Tatumsville.

Floyd Wade, Gilbertsville, also received his amended and written farm plan last week. More land had been bought which made it necessary to revise the plan.

First Baptist WMS Met Tuesday Eve.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church held its regular meeting in the Junior Sunday School room of the church Tuesday evening, February 20, with fourteen members and one visitor present. Mrs. E. D. Davis, president, presided and led the Royal Service Program. Devotional was conducted by Mrs. Della Ely. Between the business session and the program, "If," participated in by several members, Miss Julia Beth Howard favored the society with a solo, "Somebody Needs Your Love."

Much interest was manifested in the program, which will be followed along the same lines by the March Week of Prayer, during which it is hoped there will be the same prayerful interest and good attendance. The present were: Mesdames J. R. Brandon, Joe Brandon, E. D. Davis, Dan Draffen, L. H. Draffen, Beth Dycus, Della Ely, Rochie Howard, Annie Nelson, Fannie Peters, Chester Powell, Rollie Provine and Gorda Hastings; Misses Julia Beth Howard and Lizzie Hall.

So this is HOUSEKEEPING by HUBLEY STREET

To put it politely-I'm disturbed. To put it honestly-I'm peeved! The objects of my anger are those speechmakers and writers who now say the washing machine is a luxury and that, accordingly, its production should be halted in favor of defense production and the continued output of certain "essential" civilian products. I am perfectly willing to give up the luxuries of peace-time life if it is going to help our nation in these perilous times. But I strongly disagree with anyone who says that washing machines are luxuries. I'm sure that you, as homemakers, will agree with me. You will, if you're like Mrs. Richmond, who lives in our block and is a very busy young mother of three small children. When I asked her what she'd do without a washing machine, she replied: "I'd just have to throw in the sponge."

Then I began thinking: "Just why is the washing machine so important?" The most important reason is to keep our families and homes clean. Cleanliness is the foundation of health, and good health is a prime requisite for good morale, a vital ingredient for personal and national success either in peace or war. At least seven out of every 10 American housewives do the family washing at home, where they have no choice but to use a washing machine. That is, unless you can possibly consider a return to great-grandmother's scrubboard as an alternative.

The fact that I have a new washing machine doesn't serve me one bit to cool my indignation over statements that production of the "luxury" washing machine may have to be discontinued.

Recently I read that more than 40 per cent of the washing machines now in use are 10 or more years old and in need of early replacement. In still another article I read that each year an average of 1,180,000 washers are becoming useless and are being junked. It is important to everyone that these machines be replaced, for the health and cleanliness of the people with whom we associate is as important to us as the health and cleanliness of our own families. It's my own opinion that it's of vital importance, too, to the entire nation. History proves that one of the surest ways to weaken a nation is to first weaken the unity and strength (and that means health) of the family. I, for one, am going to write my congressman!

Patriotic citizens know - the V. F. W. is a Good Outfit

WE'VE GOT A GREAT TOWN Fine people, pretty churches, good schools, paved streets-and a lot of other things we can brag about.

But there's a lot of things this community - like many others - could have to make it much better. Making this town nice enough to keep our young people from moving to other towns or cities is Target No. One for the Veterans of Foreign Wars. We've got a lot of big ideas about what we can do as a non-partisan, non-sectarian group of citizens for the welfare of our community. We can do a better job - and do it quicker - if all overseas veterans will give us their help as active members. Once you join up and hear about our plans we know you're going to say - "THE V.F.W. IS A GOOD OUTFIT!"
